

The Daily Market Report

PORTLAND, Oct. 19.—Cranberries in the wholesale market are selling at $10 a barrel, the price fixed at the opening of the season, but an advance is expected soon and may come this week because of the unusually short crop in the East. Reports from the cranberry fields of Massachusetts, New Jersey and Wisconsin indicate that the yield generally will be from half to two-thirds the usual crop.

The National Fruit Exchange estimates the cranberry crop of the country as 257,000 barrels, compared with 422,000 barrels last season.

New York trade papers report the market firm, with prices showing a decided upward trend. Conditions in the East will of necessity affect the Coast trade, for though cranberry production in Oregon and Washington has become an important industry the output of the two states is far from sufficient for the home demand.

REBELLION FOMENTS ON PLUM ISLAND N. Y.

FEDERAL RESERVATION ON LONG ISLAND SCENE OF FIERCE CONTEST

U. S. TROOPS TO BE SENT ON

Question of Excessive Rents on Part of Government Lessee at Bottom of Trouble—Many of the Squatters Remain.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—There is rebellion on Plum Island and there is a likelihood that troops will be called out to quell it—after they have found Plum Island. The report of the succulent name is a federal reservation somewhere in Jamaica Bay on the south shore of Long Island.

It was once the abode of squatter sovereignty and the cause of the trouble, of which the erstwhile squatters are complaining, is that they have to pay not only rent, but exorbitant rent that.

After the War Department abandoned an expressed intention to fortify Plum Island they leased the place in May, 1907 to Winfield S. Overton, who started a project to give boxing matches, dog fights, and cocking mains there. Overton agreed to pay $2,000 for the first year and $3,050 for the four years following, but when he took possession of the island he found himself preceded by a hundred or more squatters. They resented his invasion so vigorously that he called upon the Department at Washington and soldiers were sent out from Fort Hamilton to oust the squatters.

Subsequently Overton sublet the island to other persons and the squatter situation was compromised by allowing them to remain upon payment of rent in almost nominal sums.

Later, the complaint goes, these rents were steadily advanced and an edict has gone forth that unless the most recent figure is met the tenants will find themselves evicted into Jamaica Bay.

The tenants have banded together and have placed their interests in the hands of an attorney who went to Washington the other day and received a promise that the matter will be investigated.

It is believed however, it will be necessary to call out the troops again before the matter is settled.

Are You Only Half Alive?
